There is a belief in Paris that Madame Sarah is so ill that she can not live long. During the past few weeks she has declined rapidly, and in addition to this she has lost hope.

It might give courage to those who feel that life is all behind them when they reach 50 or 55, to say that Mrs. Julia Ward Howe, the poetess and reformer, earned the Greek language after she was fifty, and learned it pretty well.

The New York Post, in giving an account of the origin of the names of the States, has this about Wisconsin, which certainly does not enlighten one very much: "Wisconsin was named after its principal river. Until quite a recent period the river was called the Oniscoun, sin, which is said to mean 'westward flowing.' Onis is evidently shortened from the French 'ouest.' Mr. Schoolcraft says that 'locality' was given in the Algonquin by 'ung,' meaning at, in, or by—as Wisconsin. The name is probably of mixed origin."

The money still continues to flow into the treasuries of the well-endowed colleges. Ex-Governor Morgan, of New York, who has always been generous to educational institutions, has again given him to his noble impulses, and has made a gift of $100,000 to Williams College. During the past two or three years there have been millions of dollars given to colleges in this country, but it happens that nearly all the money has gone to colleges whose treasuries are already well filled, or whose endowments are abundantly sufficient to pay all their running expenses. There are many colleges in the West, institutions which are doing grand missionary work, and which are struggling to pay their faculties, that are forgotten nine times out of ten by the wealthy and generous who make bequests.

The public will remember with what zeal the great Republican dailies of Chicago, Milwaukee and other cities copied the vile things that appeared in the Okolona (Miss.) States during the last national campaign. The trash published in that miserable sheet, by a Republican from Ohio, sent down there by the Republican national committee for that purpose, was relished as the sentiment of the people of the South. The fellow Kernan, who went from Ohio down to Mississippi under the pay of the Republican national committee to run the Okolona States and supply the Republican press and party of the North with that sort of campaign diet, is now out in Iowa publishing the Le Mars Sentinel, a staunch Republican paper. He admits the whole business now, and regards it as having been cunning rather than shameful to the last degree.—Madison Democrat.

The charge that Kernan and Harper went to Mississippi to start a red-hot Democratic paper by order of the Republican National committee, was one of the many delusions into which the Democratic party fell in 1880. The Okolona States was supported by the Bourbons of Mississippi, and there was no evidence then or now that the Republican National committee had anything to do with the starting or the management of the paper. It would be just as reasonable to charge that the Democratic National committee induced Buchanan, the editor of the Le Mars Sentinel in 1880, to publish his Republican paper after the fashion of the States. For one, the Gazette never reproduced any of the articles which appeared in either of the papers during that memorable campaign. The editorials were slush and not arguments.

Captain Eads is still confident that his ship railway across the isthmus will be a success. He thinks Congress will take some action in the matter, and appropriate enough to build the first section on which an experiment can be made which will test the feasibility of the scheme. Captain Eads says he asks government aid only when the project has been thoroughly tested. The first ten miles he offers to build without the aid of the government, and when that much of the scheme has been tested by the transportation of a vessel, then the government is to give a guarantee of five millions, and so on, as each section is built, the whole sum not to be guaranteed until the road is fully completed. The cost of the railway will be seventy-five million dollars, and it will take four years to build it. As a comparison with the canal scheme of De Lesseps, it is interesting to note the fact that the canal will cost according to Eads, four hundred thousand dollars, and it will take twenty to twenty-five years to build it. In addition to this, the ship railway will be 1,200 miles nearer the United States than the canal, and will escape all the effects of the deadly climate of the isthmus proper where it rains for six months in the year. In closing up a statement in regard to the work, Captain Eads says: "It will be built on Mexican territory. My grant from Mexico allows me to secure the joint interest of any other nation in the road. Mexico gives 1,000,000 acres of land, freedom from taxation, etc. I offer to transport American shipping at one-half the cost of that of any other nation excepting Mexico. It is merely a question whether the road will be built in the interest of the commerce of the United States or that of some other country."

THE LEGISLATURE.

Special to the Gazette.

SENATE.
MADISON, March 21.—In the Senate to-day Governor Rusk sent in a veto message to the bill for draining the Togo-galeaux river, on the ground that it granted dangerous franchises to private corporations.

Bills passed fixing the salaries of sheriffs in Milwaukee county.

Legalizing the barbed wire fence.

The apportionment bill coming up on ordering it engrossed and read a third time, Senator Palmer offered an amendment changing the apportionment of Walworth county from an east and west to a north and south district, which was adopted by a vote of 18 to 10. This vote shows a disposition to tinker with the bill, and this disposition may extend the session into April.

Senator Simpson offered an amendment making a radical change in the apportionment of the assembly districts in Milwaukee; pending the discussion of which the Senate took a recess till evening.

ASSEMBLY.
In the Assembly the bill giving railroads building through it the benefits from St. Croix Tresspass fund was concurred in.

Ordered to a third reading the bill allowing Simons Mills to settle claims of State for fifty cents on the dollar.

MADISON, March 20.—The Legislature held a short session this evening, and then adjourned to see Booth in "Hamlet" at the Opera house.

The following Assembly bills were concurred in: Authorizing sureties in criminal cases to surrender the principal; extending the powers and privileges of gas companies, so as to include the gas used for manufacturing and culinary purposes.

Governor Rusk will, to-morrow, send a veto message to the Assembly on Clark's bill authorizing the counties of Marathon, Clark, Chippewa, Oconto, and Shawano to dispose of swamp lands to aid in the construction of railroads in or through those counties. The reason for the veto is that a duplicate bill introduced in the Senate has passed both houses and become a law some days since.

Governor Rusk to-night renominated Dr. J. T. Reeve, of Appleton, Supervisor of Inspectors of Humane Oils.

A total of 12 acts have been approved by the Governor and deposited with the Secretary of State.

The Senate committee on Finance, Banks, and Insurance made a report, to-night, recommending that the bill to allow general storm insurance companies, organized under the laws of other States, to take risks in this State against damage by wind, be indefinitely postponed.

Senator Finkbeiner, Chairman of the committee, stated that he had been offered a free policy by a company, whose name he declined to give, if he would secure a favorable report from his committee on the bill.

The Senate Committee on State affairs will report a bill in a few days extending the limit of certain provisions in the exemption laws. The committee think there is too much difference between exempting sixty days wages of a workingman, and exempting the $50,000 residences of some officers of a corporation receiving $10,000 annual salary.

GENERAL AND MRS. GRANT.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Elaborate preparations have been made by President Arthur for the entertainment of General and Mrs. Grant at the White House, where they will arrive to-morrow afternoon. Wednesday afternoon a private dinner party will be given in honor of the distinguished guests in the private dining room, at which courses will be laid for thirty persons, and the menu will comprise everything that can be procured in the markets of New York, Philadelphia and Washington. The Marine band has received instructions to be present, and in order to prevent a repetition of the blunder which occurred on a former occasion, they have been ordered to report at the White House hereafter when told to do so by the President or any one else in authority at the mansion. Although it is the season of Lent a number of parties will be given General and Mrs. Grant, as they are great favorites in society circles here, and the week that they remain in Washington will be a noteworthy one. The reception Wednesday will, it is said, surpass in elegance anything hitherto given in the mansion, and the artists in charge of the affair have been instructed to spare no expense in carrying out the designs.

SMALL POX.

MADISON, March 20.—There are now four cases of small pox in the city. Scott, the drayman, who carried the original case to the pest-house, is pulling out all right after a hard siege. Two children named Blake, members of the family in the house where Scott lives, are down. A negro named George Washington, who lives in a thickly-settled quarter on Wilson street, on Third Lake ridge, near some of the finest residences in town, is the latest case. This last case created a decided commotion, and vigorous quarantine has been instituted.

SELF DESTRUCTION.

MILWAUKEE, March 20.—Mrs. August Ginder, wife of the driver of Engine No. 2 of the first department of this city, committed suicide by hanging to-day.

CAULFIELD, Ill., March 20.—Henry Teisenbruch, a German residing in this city, committed suicide to-day by drowning himself in Graves' mill pond.

MANFIELD, Ohio, March 20.—A German about 50 years of age, named Theobald Kratz, was found dead in his room about 10 o'clock this forenoon, his body being suspended from the top round of a ladder, which was leaned against the wall. Kratz, who has been in America but a short time, is said to have been quite a wealthy and intelligent man, but has lately been drinking badly.

A SENSATIONAL STORY.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., March 20.—A very sensational story is told to-night by a prisoner in the jail from which Hilden escaped. Woods, a desperate character, who is in for burglary, joined Hilden in plotting for the escape of all the prisoners. It was arranged that when Hilden was taken down to the furnace-room he should knock the jailer on the head, take his revolver and keys, and liberate the others, who then should break for freedom, even if they had to fight their way out. The opportunity for such an adventure occurred, and, had Hilden remained true to the agreement, the prison would have been emptied. He looked the jailer in the basement and fled without offering to liberate his associates. There were no officers about excepting the imprisoned jailer, and the escape of the entire gang would have been just as easy as was Hilden's.

HIS LAST DRUNK.

ROCKFORD, Ill., March 20.—William Gaylord, a one-armed soldier, who had been drunk at Beloit all day Saturday, was instantly killed in Rockton, Saturday night. His remains were badly mutilated. He left Beloit at night on the Milwaukee road, and then changed to the Northwestern. He was killed near Turtle creek, just a few miles this side of the State line, and was probably killed by the train that left Beloit at 12 o'clock Saturday night. He had just drawn $80 in pension money and only $5 was found on his person. He has a wife and family living in Wisconsin. Coroner Davis went up on the train to hold an inquest.

SNOW BLOCKADE.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 19.—A dispatch from Emigrant Gap says the two sections of the west bound passenger and emigrant train of three days ago left there yesterday afternoon, with the west bound train at Blue Canyon, which had been stuck there four days. They have got through. The east bound trains reached that place yesterday forenoon. About six hundred men are working west of Blue Canyon, trying to keep the road open. The storm raged furiously last night, the snow drifting badly. A snow plow stuck West of Blue Canyon and another blockade seems imminent. A later dispatch says the snow plow bound West is stuck about three miles West of Truckee. The plow of the East bound trains cannot get out until morning. No trains can get through to-day. It is snowing hard. A dispatch from Alta says the situation is very discouraging. The road was expected last night and trains passed. A heavy snow storm has been raging since and it is deemed impossible to keep the road clear. The snow is five feet deep. A violent snow storm is prevailing at Truckee. A furious snow storm is raging at Virginia City. The snow is already three feet deep. A dispatch from Carson says the road is impassable between there and Reno. Neither stage nor train can reach there.

SCANDAL COMING.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 20.—There is a prospect of an unfortunate wrangle in the House when the report of the committee upon the funeral of President Garfield shall be made. The latest story is that some sharp correspondence with Mrs. Dr. Edson as to some of the physicians in charge will be produced. It is now said the report was circulated that Mrs. Dr. Edson received $50 per day during the President's illness for information furnished to the press. Mrs. Edson, upon hearing of this, is reported to have written a letter demanding the name of the person who had circulated this libel about her, and adding that it could not be said of her, as it could be said and proved of others, that she maintained telegraphic communication with Wall street during the President's illness by means of a telegraph instrument located in the White House. If the quarrel of the physicians and the nurses is pushed so far the gossip current in those terrible days, which no newspaper would publish in the presence of the dying, may become known.

Sleeping-Car Adventures.

A new route has been established to Switzerland. Leaving London at 10 a. m., you find yourself in the afternoon at Calais; there you take a train direct to Bale. I had invested the sum of eighteen shillings in a ticket for the sleeping-car. This car consists of compartments containing either two or four couches. The couch to which my ticket gave me a right was, I found, in one of the compartments arranged over land, like berths in a ship. We had passed Amiens, when the attendant entered with a number of sheets in his hand. The ladies looked aghast; so did I. One—an elderly spinster—supposed that I was not going to remain, and thus prevent her and her companions from taking the rest for which they had paid. A blush suffused my cheek, but I plucked up sufficient courage to hint that I, too, had parted with coin of the realm in order to enjoy a like repose. After a chorus of "Well, I never!" it was finally agreed that I should retire into the passage until the ladies had got into their beds, and drawn the curtains before each of these boudoirs. To this I assented, and having passed the passage for about half an hour returned. All the curtains were drawn. "I hope you are not undressing?" proceeded from behind the curtain of the elderly spinster. "He won't have the impudence to do any thing of the kind," floated through the air from behind another curtain. "Ladies," I said, "sleep in maiden meditation behind your curtains. I am clothed from head to foot. I propose to divest myself of my coat and boots; I shall then climb up into my berth, draw my curtain, and you will see nothing more of me until to-morrow morning."

"Mind, sir, only your coat and boots," said the elderly spinster, and with this parting warning, I turned in. The train was timed to reach Bale at 6 a. m. An hour before that time my rest was disturbed by shrill cries from behind the curtains. "I was sternly ordered to get up and go at once into the corridor, in order that the nymphs might also arise. 'No, ladies,' I answered. 'I mean to remain in bed until we arrive. Get up without fear, and trust to the innate chivalry of the humble male who now addresses you. He pledges his word of honor not to peep through the paring in his curtain.' So they got up, and I did not look. My experiences of this night led me to suggest that in sleeping-cars the sexes should be placed apart, and that there should be a separate compartment for men and another for women, instead of the present eclectic arrangement.—Correspondence London Daily News.

Charity.

"Will you do me the favor to read this paper?"
"Can't do it—left my eye-glasses home," was the reply.
"Then I will state the contents to you."
"No use—no use, I'm so deaf I couldn't catch more than on word out of three."
"I'm a poor man with a wooden leg, sir."
"Yes—I see—I see. Lots of poor men have no wooden legs. You are lucky, sir, and I congratulate you. Must have cost you fifty dollars, and I presume it is a nice leg."
"If you had any clothes, sir."
"Yes, but I haven't."
"Or old boots."
"I'm wearing my old boots, you see. You are just six months too early to get 'em."
"I haven't had a meal since yesterday."
"Nor I, either. We are cleaning house, and for the last three days I've had to eat a cold lunch off the piano."
"Then you couldn't spare a nickel?"
"How can I? Ain't I walking home because I haven't money to ride on the car?"
"Is that so? Then we're both hard up."
"Of course we are."
"And being you're the worst off here's a cold sausage I got at a house below, and here's a nickel to ride on the car! I tell you, sir, a poor fellow has got to have some pity for the rich and do better by 'em or we'll all go the poor-house."

A Novel Idea.

A farmer in Iowa sends the following novel proposition respecting telephone facilities to the Iowa State Register: "Will not some of those smart patent-right men invent a cheap insulator? Then we can utilize our wire fences for telephones, and have the whole country connected and in speaking distance of each other. At the road crossings insulated cables can be run under ground, or regular poles can be planted to raise the wires above travel. In riding around I notice we have a continuous wire on the fences already. All we need is an insulator, costing a small sum and which is so arranged that the wire can be tightened, and held firmly and securely; and we shall have the line already strung that will do away with a telephone monopoly (if there is one). Then make each postoffice a telephone exchange, and business for farmers will be expedited, saving many trips to town to order parts of machinery, or to learn if some important letter has arrived. Visiting friends can notify us of their arrival on the train; hasty trips for medical assistance may be done away with, and many things not now thought of."

AN AGREEABLE DRESSING FOR THE HAIR, that will stop its falling, has been long sought for. Parker's Hair Balsam, distinguished for its fully supplies this want.

Bricklets.

—Look to your fires during the high wind storms.

—Supervisor Slaymaker, of Turtle was in the city to-day.

—Rev. H. Sewell, of Whitewater, was in the city to-day, on business.

—Marshall Hogan and Officer McGinley each run in one tramp last night.

—Hon. Charles H. Parker and Hon. S. J. Todd, of Beloit, were in the city to-day.

—The high wind of last night and this forenoon destroyed a few chimneys in the city.

—The high wind of last night was a reminder that the vernal equinox wind storms had arrived.

—Mr. James E. Moseley, of Madison was in the city to-day, a guest of his brother—Mr. Charles E. Moseley.

—Mr. John S. Shorb, returned to-day from Canton, New York whether he was called a few days ago to attend the funeral of his brother.

—Miss Frank Edwards will start to-morrow for Scranton, Pennsylvania where she will spend three or four months visiting friends.

—A strong north wind has been blowing a gale all day, and considerable fine snow lying, which made it quite disagreeable to be out doors.

—The Strakosch Grand Italian Opera company will appear in Janesville, on Wednesday, March 29th, in the great opera of "Il Barbiere di Siviglia."

—M. P. Lindsley, the Grand Lecturer of the Odd Fellows, sends word that he will be unable to fill his appointment to lecture at No. 90 lodge this evening.

—Mr. Wm. M. Hatch, of the Third ward, has perhaps, the oldest piece of continental paper money in the city. It is a one dollar bill, issued 14th of January, 1779.

—Mrs. Hester Filmore, of North Second street, who recently came to Janesville, from Maringo, Illinois, died yesterday afternoon, and will be buried to-morrow.

—Charles De Graff, Esq., of St. Paul, one of the railroad magnates of the Northwest, and proprietor of the noted Lake Elysean breeding and stock farms, with stable accommodations for 180 animals, located at Janesville, Minn., is a guest of Mr. H. D. McKinney.

—Chief Young received word last night from the Sibley fire engine works that our rotary engine would be shipped on the date of the postal, the 18th. It will arrive some day this week. We were informed yesterday by the driver of No. 1 that the engine had just been sent to the paint shop.

—At 12:15 this afternoon the fire bells summoned the fire department to the residence of H. D. McKinney, on Court street. The cause of the alarm proved to be a burning chimney, which filled the house with smoke, and so frightened the family that the alarm was given. No particular damage was done, except to spoil the dinners of many members of the department, many of whom had just commenced their noon-day meal when the alarm called them away.

—At the west side engine house, last evening, the fire department met and recommended to the common council for confirmation the following officers: Chief Engineer, R. P. Young; First Assistant, John Kelly, and Second Assistant, Thomas Mahon. The chief engineer submitted a report of disbursements and money received by him for his department, which was approved. The officers elected then invited the members to Zienow & Blunk's restaurant where an oyster supper had been provided.

—The proceedings of the board of supervisors of Rock county, issued in pamphlet form from the job department of the Gazette printing company, have been completed, and were delivered to the county clerk this afternoon. The pamphlet contains the proceedings of the June, July, and November sessions of 1881, the January sessions of 1882, and the special session, February, 1882, making, with the statistical matter, one hundred and twenty-eight pages. It is the handsomest and largest pamphlet ever issued by the county.

—Mr. A. B. Edwards, proprietor of the Pember house, has received the omnibus manufactured expressly for him by the Conrland Omnibus company, of Courtland, New York. It is a thing of beauty, and will prove a joy to all who ride in it to the Pember house. It is handsomely painted, gilded, and lettered, and is without doubt the finest bus ever drawn on the streets of Janesville. The Pember house, under the management of Mr. Edwards, is prospering, and the business demands just such an omnibus as his enterprise has led him to bring to Janesville.

—Early this morning, N. Fredericks started with two hearse and carriages, to attend the funerals of Helen and Thoria Burtness, at Orford, but after proceeding about a mile, the roads were found to be impassable, and he was obliged to return to the city. The Rev. L. K. Thorwaldsen, the minister who was to officiate at the same funeral, made an attempt to go by cars, but the engine was disabled, and the train did not go to Orford this morning. The deceased ladies were sisters, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. John Burtness, of Orford. Both deaths were from measles. Helen died on Saturday afternoon and Thoria on yesterday morning. We understand that Mr. Burtness lives about two miles from the cemetery, and the funeral, which was appointed at 10 o'clock this morning, will probably not be delayed on account of the non-arrival of the minister and carriages from this city, as the conveyances can be provided.

—Our Tom Ingalls, who escaped from the prison at Waupun on the afternoon of October 19th, 1881, has been captured in Council Bluffs, Iowa. It appears that Ingalls was before the police court in Mrs. Laura G. Fiken, of Minnesota, delivered a lecture on temperance at the Congregational church, Saturday evening to a well filled house. Her subject was "The Bottle, vs. The Whisky Jug." After the lecture a meeting was announced for this week to organize a society for political work.

The funeral of Gardner Hall, who died on the 13th inst, took place on Thursday at the S. D. B. church, Milton Junction, and the remains were interred at Rock River. Deceased was born in February, N. Y., January 25, 1796, and moved to Alfred Center, N. Y., at the age of 20. He married Nancy Stillman September 25th, 1817, who survives him. He came to Wisconsin in the fall of 1839, and settled in Lima. His home for the past 26 years has been in this village, where he was respected and had a large circle of friends. At the time of his death he was aged 86 years, 1 month and 15 days. For several years past "Uncle" Gardner, as everybody called him, has been confined to his house by lameness and other troubles, but until a short time prior to his death was able to sit up and enjoy visits from his friends, and his mental powers were vigorous. He was a soldier in the war of 1812, and received a pension for his services to the government at that time. Mr. Hall was one of the oldest persons in town at the time of his death, and left a handsome property to his heirs. His only living children are Mrs. James Pierce, of Rock River and Miss Lucy M. Hall, of this village.

M. J. Whitford and J. Z. McLaughlin, of Chicago, George W. Brown, of DeForest and Welch, of Fairfield, took in their share of the Orophian banquet.

—Dr. James Headley, of New York, delivered his lecture on the "Sunny side of life," in College chapel, on Tuesday evening of last week. Notwithstanding it was a stormy night, he was greeted with a good audience. His lecture was instructive, interesting and pleasing.

—The winter term of the college closed on Wednesday and most of the students went home to enjoy vacation. A large proportion expect to return at the opening of the spring term on the 29th inst.

—S. M. Bond, who has been making his Milton friends a pleasant visit for several weeks past, returned to his Missouri home last Wednesday. Success and health attend him.

—John M. Sailer, the inventor, went to New York last Wednesday to arrange for the sale of his patent reversing attachment for stationary engines. He has just sold the right for the Dominion of Canada for several thousand dollars. During his trip he will introduce Davis Bro's new machine to the notice of wholesale iron dealers and manufacturers.

By the recent change of time this village enjoys the following mail facilities. Mails are sent out as follows: At 1 p. m. for points east to Milwaukee in Chicago and beyond; at 4:30 p. m. to points west, and Iowa, Dakota and Minnesota, also to Janesville, Beloit, Rockford and on the Monroe branch; at 6 p. m. for Janesville, Milwaukee, Chicago, and beyond, and north. Mails arrive at 9 a. m. from Janesville, Milwaukee and Chicago; at 1 p. m. from the Monroe branch; at 1:30 p. m. from the west and 5:10 a. m. from Milwaukee and Chicago. People who wish to be well posted, should cut out this item for future reference.
